

Faubus Says Tax Increase Very Unlikely

By JOHN R. STARR
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today he sees little possibility of a tax increase in the 1963 legislature.

"I think it's pretty evident that the public is dead set against tax increases at this time," Faubus said in a news conference. "I've never seen the people more tax-conscious than they are now."

The governor said he did not feel the tax resistance was the fault of state or local government but due to "what I call excessive federal taxation."

Faubus cited the defeat of amendments 50 and 42 in Tuesday's general election as proof of tax resistance.

"The only thing brought out against these measures was that they would mean a tax increase," he said.

Faubus plans to spend the rest of this week working on budget recommendations for the Legislative Council, which in turn will make recommendations to the legislature.

"We are paring each of the budgets as much as possible so we can have as much money as we can get from general revenues for public schools and institutions of higher learning," Faubus said.

The governor plans to make another personal appearance before the council, probably next Tuesday.

Faubus declined to discuss what legislation outside of budgets he will recommend in 1963.

"I'm going to have some proposals that will make news, but I'm not ready to talk about them now," he said. "Right now we're too busy on budgets."

He remarked that he foresees no major controversies in the 1963 legislative session, but he added "That's like a political campaign. You can't anticipate what is going to come up."

The governor, again, expressed surprise at defeat of amendments 51 and 53 in the Arkansas election.

"I had polls 10 days before the election which showed 51, 53 and 54 passing by 75 to 80 per cent," he said.

"Apparently 51 and 53 went down in a wave of 'anti' sentiment against the city taxing amendment and the school fund initiative act," Faubus said.

Latest returns show Amendment 51 defeated. No. 53 trailed but retained a chance of passage. No. 54 apparently was adopted, but a final decision on 53 and 54 will not be known until the official vote is certified.

Church Group to Meet Here Sunday

The District 7 Convention of Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ) will be held in the First Christian Church of Hope on Sunday, November 11, beginning at 2:30 p. m. The ladies of the church will provide a snack supper at 6 p. m. Officers of this year's Convention are: Clifton Hardin of Arkadelphia, president; Leon Taylor of Camden, Vice-President; Robert A. Girard of El Dorado, representatives; and Mrs. Lily Pearson of Hope, secretary. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Sun Breaks Through After Rain

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The sun broke through the clouds over part of Arkansas today after two days of rain and cloudiness over most of the state.

The skies were generally clear in the western section of Arkansas this morning but the eastern section remained blanketed with clouds. Partly cloudy skies were reported in the central portion of the state.

The clearing trend is expected to continue and will gradually extend into northeast Arkansas tonight and into the southeast by Friday morning.

Rain which fell in the state Wednesday was caused by a cold front which moved across the state. Temperatures will remain somewhat on the chilly side through Friday, when a warming trend is expected.

Rainfall Wednesday appeared more plentiful in the western section of the state. Fort Smith reported more than 1.50 inches and Texarkana 1.31 inches during the rainy period.

Other cities reporting rainfall were Walnut Ridge, .15 of an inch; Fayetteville, .20; El Dorado, .20; Little Rock, .18 of an inch. Fayetteville was the coldest spot in the state Wednesday night with a low of 29. Harrison reported 34 degrees and Keiser, in Northeast Arkansas, recorded 31 for its low.

Some Chance Is Given 2 Amendments

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Two of the seven proposed constitutional amendments continued to hold slight chances of approval Wednesday as returns trickled in from the state's 2,348 precincts.

Amendment 54, which would permit the use of voting machines, held a favorable margin of about 3,500 votes and Amendment 53, the proposal to keep the teacher retirement system actuarially sound was trailing by the little more than 1,000 votes.

It appeared from early returns that all seven proposals would be defeated, but the voting machine and teacher retirement amendments picked up votes when the big city boxes began coming in late Tuesday and early Wednesday.

During the day Wednesday the voting machine amendment lead continued to hold but the Amendment 53 tally wavered on the pass-fail line.

The totals, with 2,206 precincts reported:

Amendment 54 (voting machines) For 125,310 Against 122,717

Amendment 53 (teacher retirement) For 126,077 Against 127,260

Amendment 51 (Segregation) (2,181 pct) For 115,602 Against 130,119

Amendment 52 (officials' pay raise) (2,192 pct) For 99,948 Against 145,083

Act 1 school revenues (2,192 pct) For 8,099 Against 151,575

Act 2 school revenues (2,192 pct) For 34,532 Against 192,089

Gov. Orval E. Faubus said Wednesday he thought Amendment 50, which would have removed limitations from city taxes, was defeated because no tax ceiling was set in the proposal.

Amendment 51 would have provided that no child be denied a public education because of refusal to attend an integrated school.

Amendment 52, would have permitted increases in salaries of state and county officials.

Under Act 1, 50 per cent of the state's general revenues would have been set aside for public schools and Referred Act 199 would have established a motor vehicle commission.

Legislators said Wednesday they expected the cities to bombard the 1963 legislature with requests for money. The lawmakers said defeat of the amendment, the communities had no place else to turn.

Death Comes to Mrs. FDR at Age of 78

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, a first lady whose stature grew from the White House to the world, died in her Manhattan apartment Wednesday night.

The 78-year-old widow of the nation's 32nd president and niece of the 26th president had suffered from what the family described as "a complicated, type of anemia" for two and a half years.

Her health failed rapidly during the last six weeks, accelerated by non-contagious tuberculosis which was not proved until Oct. 25.

Her physicians, expecting heart failure, were with her at the end, along with three of her five living children. Two sons were en route by plane from distant points in the nation. Nineteen grandchildren and four great-grandchildren also survive her.

"One of the great ladies in the history of this country has passed from the scene," said President Kennedy. "Her loss will be deeply felt by all those who admired her tireless idealism or benefitted from her good works and counsel."

Leaders of the nation and the world joined in expressing sorrow and loss.

"I have lost an inspiration," said U.N. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson, the only person outside of the family to visit Mrs. Roosevelt during the final weeks of her illness. He went by her invitation. "She would rather light candles than curse the darkness," Stevenson said, "and her glow has warmed the world."

Private funeral services will be held at St. James Episcopal Church in Hyde Park, N.Y., north of New York City on the Hudson River, at 2 p. m. Saturday.

She will be buried in the rose garden of the family estate at Hyde Park, beside her husband, "in accordance with the joint wishes," the family said. His simple gravestone already bears her name and the year of her birth, 1884.

"Those at the interment service, in addition to family, will include representatives from the U.S. government, the United Nations, and the state of New York, as well as close friends of Mrs. Roosevelt," the announcement said. President Kennedy will attend. So will former President Harry S. Truman.

Both Sides Are Happy Over Voting

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democrats and Republicans alike found something to cheer about today in the make-up of the new 88th Congress that will convene on Jan. 9.

For the Democrats, the big talking point was that they had not suffered the big losses that usually befall the party in power in an off-year election.

President Kennedy said in a statement issued by the White House that he was "thrilled by the outcome of Tuesday's elections and was certain Congress would meet its responsibilities in a progressive and vigorous manner."

Republicans failed to make the gains they had hoped for in congressional races, but the GOP national chairman, William E. Miller, said he did not see in this "in any way an endorsement of the New Frontier and its programs."

The new line-up in the Senate will be 68 Democrats and 32 Republicans. This lifts the Democratic majority to the highest peak since they won 69 seats in the 1938 election. They had a 64-36 margin in the outgoing Congress.

In the House, where 435 seats were at stake this year, the Democrats captured 258 and the Republicans 176 and the Democrats were leading in one undecided race in Alaska. If the Democrats win this, they will have a hefty majority of 83.

Even so, the Democratic majority will be less than it was in the 87th Congress when there were 437 House seats and the Democrats held 263 and the Republicans 174.

Two seats were wiped out by reapportionment. The Democrats, in effect, absorbed the loss of these seats and in addition had suffered a net loss of four seats to the Republicans.

A White House spokesman contrasted these GOP inroads in the House with what he said was an average loss of 49 House seats by Democratic administrations in midterm elections in the past.

He also said that the average loss in the Senate for the party in power has been seven or eight seats since World War I, with the exception of 1934 when Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal was riding aboard the world's first nuclear-powered attack aircraft carrier, the USS Enterprise.

Chinese Start New Attacks Inside Indian

By HENRY S. BRADSHAW
NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The Chinese Communists have launched fresh attacks at the eastern end of the Himalayan battle line, the Indian Defense Ministry announced today. The action broke a lull of more than a week.

The fighting was at Walong, 15 miles from the Burma border, with the Communists making five shooting strikes in the past two days.

A defense spokesman also reported an Indian patrol clashed with the Red Chinese outside Chang, near the monastery town of Towang.

Towang, just east of the Bhutan border, was captured by the Chinese more than a week ago.

Some 850 miles to the northwest, the Red Chinese continued a military buildup near the strategic front line Indian airport of Chushul in Ladakh.

The Red Chinese attacks came as Indian defiance grew against Peiping overtures for a deal.

Parliament cheered Prime Minister Nehru as he declared the Indian people will drive the "expansionist, imperialist-minded" Red Chinese invaders from "the sacred soil of India, no matter how long and hard the struggle may be."

"No self-respecting country that loves its freedom and integrity can possibly submit to this challenge," Nehru told the crowded chamber. "Certainly not India."

His defiant statement in effect rejected a new Chinese offer to withdraw from the territory it has occupied on the Northeast Border if India would give up the Ladakh area adjoining Kashmir and Tibet in the Northwest. India rejected a similar swap in 1959.

Peiping's offer confirmed what many observers have felt was the Chinese aim in the last five years of border encroachment—to make Ladakh a secure connecting route between Tibet and western China province of Sinkiang. The Chinese have already built a road between Tibet and Sinkiang across Ladakh.

Nehru warned Parliament the fight against the "massive Chinese invasion" was not going to end soon—"We may have to face this for a number of years."

Outside Parliament 3,000 persons demonstrated with banners reading "No negotiations with China."

Nehru asked Parliament to approve measures for a long struggle.

Veterans Day Observance

Sunday, November 11, is set aside as Veterans Day. This will be the last time for the next seven years that veterans day will fall on a Sunday. So as the free world stops to pay homage to the many veterans in America, this coming Sunday by the Veterans' organizations headed by Dean E. Murphy, Commander of Leslie Huddleston Post of the American Legion, Mrs. Dora King President of the American Legion Auxiliary, Tom Foster Commander of the V. F. W. and Mrs. George Walden, President of the V.F.W. Auxiliary, all join together in inviting each and every Veteran of the Great Wars to meet them and worship together at the First Baptist Church in Hope. There will be a section reserved for the Veterans, their wives, widows and orphans. Each veteran please come and help us exemplify to the outside world our great motto, "For God and Country."

U.S. Blockade Set to Check Soviet Ships

By BARRY SCHWEID
WASHINGTON (AP)—Blockading U.S. Navy ships were ready to check homeward-bound Soviet vessels today for proof that they are hauling Red missiles from Cuba.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev said Wednesday that 40 Soviet rockets had been dismantled in Cuba and probably were on their way back to the Soviet Union.

The Pentagon said Wednesday night that arrangements were being made with Soviet representatives for the Navy to check on the number of dismantled missiles aboard the homeward-bound Soviet ships.

In announcing that the first contact would be made today, Arthur Sylvester, assistant secretary of defense for public affairs, indicated no specific hour. And he declined comment when a newsman asked if the Red Cross would play a part in the inspection procedure.

The administration has insisted on "international verification of the de-nuclearization of Cuba. Asked Wednesday if the arrangement for a Navy check of the missiles removal was considered satisfactory, Pierre Salinger White House press secretary, called attention to the last exchange of messages between President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

In his Oct. 27 message to Khrushchev, Kennedy said he understood the Soviets to have agreed to remove offensive weapons systems from Cuba "under appropriate United Nations observation and supervision."

There has been talk since of the Red Cross filling this role.

Salinger also was asked if the plan for a Navy check would have any effect on U.S. insistence upon on-the-spot verification inside Cuba. He said he was not prepared to go beyond the Pentagon statement.

The announcement said: "The Soviet Union has reported that ships are leaving Cuba with missiles aboard."

"Arrangements are being made with Soviet representatives for contact with these ships by United States naval vessels and for counting the missiles being shipped out."

The statement was issued after President Kennedy met with the executive committee of the National Security Council.

Proved Right on Prediction Says Governor

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus, who once predicted use of troops in the Mississippi integration crisis would create "a vast wasteland for the Democratic Party in the South," said today results of Tuesday's general election proved him right.

"I noticed the Republicans gained six congressmen in the South," Faubus said. "They went from nine to 15. I am sure the Meredith thing had an effect."

President Kennedy used federal troops in September to protect Negro James Meredith when he entered the University of Mississippi.

The saving factor for the Democrats in the election, Faubus said, was the Cuban crisis.

"That shoved everything else into the background," he said.

Faubus was asked why, if the Mississippi race crisis was a factor, Republicans did so poorly in Arkansas, one of Mississippi's nearest neighbors.

"We've got a good Democratic organization here," he said with a smile. "Besides, the voters in Arkansas had to choose between Kennedy and Winthrop Rockefeller and there's not much difference there. Arkansas really had no opportunity to express its opinion on the Mississippi situation."

Three Local Instructors Are Honored

Jon Barbarotto, Earl Downs, and Mrs. Mary Nell Turner were named presidents of Arkansas Education Association sectional groups at the convention in Little Rock, Nov. 1-2.

Jon Barbarotto heads the Arkansas Band Directors Association. He served as vice president last year. This group is composed of directors from 191 bands and represents 12,000 students. The organization directs the annual festivals and contests.

Mr. Barbarotto was honored last summer by being selected as one of four band directors in Arkansas for membership in the National Band Directors Association. He has been Hope High School Band Director for four years.

Earl Downs, Hope High School Guidance Counselor, also moved up from vice president to president of the Arkansas Counselors Association.

There are 210 Arkansas counselors who work with the State director and supervisor. Mr. Downs will preside when they meet in April with college deans and counselors and at the annual Political Workshop in September.

Mr. Downs has been counselor in the local high school for five years.

Mrs. Mary Nell Turner is the president of the Arkansas High School Journalism Advisers Association. This group works with the high school press association to encourage better quality school newspapers.

She was a Wall Street Journal Fellow at Oklahoma University in 1960 and has taught journalism and directed the "Hi-Lights" and "Bobcat" for the past seven years. This year the yearbook rated First Class and the newspaper Second Class with the National Scholastic Yearbook and Newspaper Association.

Regional Meet of Bar Group

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Mid-South regional meeting of the American Bar Association opens today with about 1,000 attorneys from seven states expected to attend.

Sylvester C. Smith Jr., president of the American Bar Association, and Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., were to address opening sessions of the convention.

At noon the delegates were to hear Eugene McNeely of New York, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., speak on "Growth, Regulation and Progress in Communications."

The delegates — from Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, Oklahoma, Tennessee and Texas — will hold a series of seminars on various fields of law and bar activities Friday and Saturday.

Charles E. Whitaker, retired associate justice of the U. S. Supreme Court, is scheduled to speak Friday on traffic improvement needs.

Nat'l Honor Society Taps 11 Seniors

The National Honor Society of Hope High School topped eleven senior members in an induction ceremony yesterday.

"Leaves of Gold" was the theme of the program, and this motif was carried out in the stage decorations. Vince Foster made a few introductory remarks concerning the honor society. Then, in keeping with the theme Mary Alice Caston, Mary Ann Bealy, Barbara Reese, Sharon Grech, Jane Grigg, and Jan Ellis sang "Autumn Leaves" accompanied by Bill Land at the piano.

Speeches on leadership, scholarship, service, and character were given by Mary Ann Bealy, Mary Alice Caston, Barbara Reese, and Jan Ellis.

After being tapped, the new members repeated the pledge and were pinned with blue and gold ribbons. The assembly closed with the entire student body singing "God Bless America."

Former Resident of Hope Dies

Mrs. S. A. Scott, 87, a former resident of Hope, died Wednesday at Fort Worth, Texas. She was a native of Arkadelphia. Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Jack D. Brown of Fort Worth and a grandson, Jack Duff Brown of Austin, Texas.

Services will be held at 3:30 p. m. today at St. Stephen Presbyterian Church at Fort Worth. Burial will be in Parkdale Cemetery at Arlington, Texas.

Broilers Number 4.3 Million

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas producers started 4,377,000 broiler chicks during the week ended Nov. 3, the Crop Reporting Service of the Agriculture Department said today.

This is two per cent above the figure for the previous week.

If the total placements in the state, 3,740,000 chicks were hatched in Arkansas and 597,000 came from other states.

There were 237,000 broiler chicks shipped out of the state during the week. An estimated 5,121,000 eggs were set for broiler-type chicks in Arkansas during the week, five per cent less than in the previous week.

Webb Service Is 2:30 p.m. Friday

Funeral services for John W. Webb, 47, who died Wednesday at his home in Ozan, will be held at 2:30 p. m. Friday at Ozan Baptist Church. Burial by Herndon-Cornelius will be in St. Paul Cemetery.

While the administration gained strength in the Senate, it was there that it needed help the least. In the House, where Kennedy's proposals most frequently fell afoul of opposition from Republicans and Southern Democrats, the GOP whittled down the Democratic majority.

Over-all, the complexion of Congress does not appear to have been changed much although there will be 10 new senators and 58 new members of the House. In neither party were the top leaders unseated.

The last two Senate races to be decided were the reelection of Democrats Lister Hill of Alabama and Ernest Gruening of Alaska.

Hill, veteran chairman of the Senate Labor Committee, was pushed right down to the wire in traditionally Democratic Alabama by the unexpectedly strong challenge of his Republican opponent, James D. Martin. Hill's victory margin was so slim that some Republicans were talking of demanding a recount.

In late reporting Alaska, Gruening turned back the Senate bid of Republican Ted Stevens.

The final tally of the House races, with only the one seat in Alaska to be heard from, showed the Republicans had captured 11 Democratic seats and the Democrats seven Republican seats.

Fayetteville to Give Polio Shots Sunday

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Polio immunization clinics will be set up in Washington County again Sunday in an effort to provide vaccine to those residents who have been unable to obtain it.

The announcement came from Dr. Paul Hoover, county health officer, who said the Sabin vaccine will be given from 2 p. m. until 5 p. m. in Fayetteville and Springdale High Schools.

The procedure will be the same as it was last Sunday, when approximately 37,000 of the county's residents were given the vaccine. Dr. Hoover also said that the U. S. Public Health Commission's Center in Chamblee, Ga., has reported that two of the 10 cases of polio reported in the county were caused by the Type 1 polio virus. No report has been received on the remaining eight cases.

Hoover said the Sabin vaccine Type 1 had been administered to residents because it provides protection against Type 1 polio. He said it was reasonable to assume that the remaining cases were also Type 1, which is the most common.

November 22 Proclaimed Thanksgiving

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has proclaimed Thursday, Nov. 22, as Thanksgiving Day and has urged all Americans to observe it "with reverence and with humility."

In a proclamation Wednesday, the President said "Let us renew the spirit of the Pilgrims at the first Thanksgiving, lonely in an insurmountable wilderness, facing the dark unknown with a faith borne of their dedication to God and a fortitude drawn from their sense that all men were brothers."

The text: "Over three centuries ago in Plymouth, on Massachusetts Bay, the Pilgrims established the custom of gathering together each year to express their gratitude to God for the preservation of their community and for the harvests their labors brought forth in the new land. Joining with their neighbors, they shared together and worshipped together in a common giving of thanks. Thanksgiving Day has ever since been part of the fabric which has united Americans with their past, with each other and with the future of all mankind.

"It is fitting that we observe this year our own day of Thanksgiving. It is fitting that we give our thanks for the safety of our land, for the fertility of our harvests, for the strength of our liberties, for the health of our people. We do so in no spirit of self-righteousness. We recognize that we are the beneficiaries of the toil and devotion of our fathers and that we can pass their legacy on to our children only by equal toil and equal devotion. We recognize too that we live in a world of peril and change—and in so uncertain a time we are all the more grateful for the indestructible gifts of hope and love, which sustain us in adversity and inspire us to labor unceasingly for a more perfect community within this nation and around the earth.

"Now, therefore, I, John F. Kennedy, President of the United States of America, in accord with the joint resolution of Congress, approved Dec. 26, 1941, which designates the fourth Thursday in November of each year as Thanksgiving Day, do hereby proclaim Thursday, the twenty-second day of November this year, as a day of national thanksgiving.

"I urge that all observe this day with reverence and with humility. "Let us renew the spirit of the Pilgrims at the first Thanksgiving, lonely in an insurmountable wilderness, facing the dark unknown with a faith borne of their dedication to God and a fortitude drawn from their sense that all men were brothers.

"Let us renew that spirit by offering our thanks for uncounted mercies, beyond our desert or merit, and by resolving to meet the responsibilities placed upon us.

"Let us renew that spirit by sharing the abundance of this day with those less fortunate, in our own land and abroad. Let us renew that spirit by seeking always to establish larger communities of and his wife. A memorial service at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York City is being planned for sometime within the next two weeks.

The family gave permission for an autopsy, but its purpose was not made clear. Eight years ago, Mrs. Roosevelt willed her eyes to an eye bank.

Mrs. Roosevelt fought her illness with the same vigor with which she had pursued a career which took her to the far corners of the world.

She was often on the go—shuttling around the world on one errand or another, both public and private. She lectured far and wide and was known to the public in many lands.

Her travels were often the subject of good natured humor. They also brought barbed criticism from many who disliked her or her husband—or both of them.

Only after her death did the family disclose that her illness was discovered two and a half years ago. Initially, treatment permitted her to continue writing, speaking and battling for the causes for which she had become famous.

"Let us renew that spirit by preparing our souls for the incertitudes ahead — by being always ready to confront crisis with steadfastness and achievement with grace and modesty.

"Let us renew that spirit by concerting our energy and our hope with men and women everywhere that the world may move more rapidly toward the time when Thanksgiving may be a day of universal celebration.

"Let us renew that spirit by expressing our acceptance of the limitations of human striving and by affirming our duty to strive nonetheless, as Providence may direct us, toward a better world for all mankind.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed."

Mistress Wins Case From the Wife

LONDON (AP)—A British judge has ruled that a man can owe a greater duty to his mistress than to his wife.

The background to the ruling was this: The late John Lucas had two women in his life—his wife, Elsie Lucas, 63; and his mistress for 20 years, Jean Watts, 66.

When he died earlier this year, Lucas left an estate of 2,693 pounds—$47,530—to Miss Watts.

He left nothing to his wife. Lucas lived with his wife for seven years. They had two children. After he left her, he went to live with Miss Watts.

Hearing evidence and passing judgment in the case, Justice Sir Geoffrey Cross said the problem was to decide which of the two women has the bigger claim to the money.

"He certainly owed a duty to his wife," the judge said. "At the same time, he had a high duty to Miss Watts."

Justice Cross pointed out that Lucas and Miss Watts both worked.

Every Friday, they pooled their earnings. They deducted 25 shillings—$3.50—and paid this to the wife, as maintenance money. They next deducted their living expenses.

Then they banked the rest—in Lucas' name. After hearing the evidence, the judge:

Gave the wife 500 pounds—$1,400.

Awarded the remainder of the estate to Miss Watts. "Even recognizing that Miss Watts had the greater claim," the judge said, "I don't feel Mr. Lucas was justified in leaving the widow nothing at all."

Laneburg in Three Wins Over Emmet

Three teams from Laneburg captured three games from Emmet this week with the Junior boys, led by McAtter and Langston with 10 each, scoring a 23 to 18 decision. Ken Douglas of Emmet made six points.

Laneburg Senior girls took a 43 to 33 decision. Ann Murrah tossed in 27 while Emmet's Sue Wake had 19.

Jamie Ammons with 14 led Laneburg to a 61-49 decision. Bud Emmet's Reed with 18 was high scorer of the game.

Bobcats Travel to Haynesville, La. Tonight

By VINCE FOSTER

Tonight the Hope Bobcats travel to Louisiana to play the powerful Haynesville Golden Tornadoes with kickoff at eight p. m. This non-conference game has little state importance, but the Bobcats expect plenty of trouble.

The Tornadoes are well named for, although they are somewhat smaller than the Cats, they move quick and hit hard, leaving damage wherever they've been.

Haynesville stormed the 4AA leaders Fairview to the tune of (3-0), and then the Tornadoes were toppled by Magnolia 20-0. Reviewing Fairview whipped the locals 7-0, while Magnolia held the Cats to a scoreless tie. Haynesville will be trying hard to upset another 4AA power and the Cats had better be ready.

After last week's 40-7 "rest" with Logansport, La., the Bobcats ought to be eager for some real action again. The Hope offensive backfield, who with the exception of QB Mayfield didn't see action offensively last week, better be sure-handed tonight, because the Tornadoes are known for their ability to turn fumbles into touchdowns right before your very eyes. All in all, this should be a very interesting game and should be an omen to how the Thanksgiving game with unbeaten Nashville will turn out.

The starting offensive team will be:

LE Earl Ray Murphy
LT Jerry Goad
LG Charles Beggs
C Dan Jones
RG Tony Purdie
RT Charles Beyerley
RE James Marcum
QB Gary Mayfield
LB David Porterfield
FB Richard McDowell
RHB Roy Wray

Baptists Hear Plea for Fund Campaign

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - Messengers to the Arkansas State Baptist Convention heard a plea Wednesday for success of a $1.3 million fund-raising campaign for Ouachita College.

The plea was made by Dr. H. E. Williams, a Ouachita College graduate now president of Southern Baptist College at Walnut Ridge.

Williams said the need for Christian education is "higher than the interest of any one institution" and told messengers only Christian colleges can maintain intellectual independence.

Baptist institutions of learning, he said, have made errors, however.

"First they have been guilty of provincialism and narrow institutionalism in that each institution has been busily engaged in an (trover) and self promotionalism," he said.

"They have been trying too long to sell themselves as individual institutions and they are losing the battle of competition as the public sees more in the way of bricks and mortar in the huge politically controlled colleges and institutions," he added.

Politically controlled institutions, he said, "can only uncover the truth and other ideas (that are) in harmony with the political powers that be."

Williams said this is the reason Russia is not turning out broadly trained citizens, "but rather automatons geared to a materialistic and scientific society, incapable of making the decisions that free men must make in order to remain free."

It is the "God-given task" of Baptist colleges, he said, "to identify the truth which shall make all men free."

The convention messengers re-elected Dr. C. Z. Holland of Jonesboro to a customary second-term as president Wednesday. Holland is pastor of the First Baptist church of Jonesboro.

68 Top Pros in Canadian Cup Meet

By FRANK N. MANITZAS

SAN ISIDRO, Argentina (AP) - Sixty-eight top professional golfers from 34 countries open fire today in the 10th annual Canada Cup and International Tournament, with the United States favored for both the team and individual titles.

Sam Snead is favored to defend successfully the individual crown he won last year at Puerto Rico with a record 72-hole total of 272.

"It will take a 272 to win here," Snead said after his first tune-up. Bothered slightly by a pinched nerve in his left foot—that might possibly cause trouble later—Snead pleased the crowds and himself with scores of 66, 64, and 67 in three practice rounds over the par 70, 6,476-yard Jockey Club course here.

Arnold Palmer, considered the world's best golfer, is teamed with Snead to try and bring the United States its third consecutive Canada Cup. But Palmer's game seems rusty after a three-week vacation.

Palmer described his play in practice rounds as "stinky golf." His long irons were erratic and his putts didn't drop.

The U.S. team is in the fifth pair today with Japan's Tadashi Kitta and Torakichi Nakamura. First off was the host team, Argentina, which could provide the hoped for surprise by the thousands expected to watch the matches through Sunday.

Argentina won the first Canada Cup in 1953. Veteran Roberto de Vincenzo is back to lead Argentina and he is turning in sub-par rounds along with teammate Fidel Deluca.

South Africa's Gary Player, still sharp from his Australian Open championship at Adelaide a few days ago, says he is ready. Australia's Kei Nagle and Peter Thomson, twice winners of the Canada Cup, have been going well.

There is no knowledge as to the original discovery or use of fire, ture, forestry, and minerals.

Spring Hill Takes 3 From Bodcaw

Spring Hill and Bodcaw tied up in three games Tuesday and the Hempstead teams captured all three.

The Junior girls beat Bodcaw 45 to 24 with Litta Powell with 13 and Sandra Curtis with 10 points leading the way. Peggy Butler was high scorer for Bodcaw with 15 and Jan White made nine.

It was no contest between the Senior girls with Spring Hill rolling up a 91 to 9 score. Jackie Kidd got 16 and Pat Butler 14.

Again it was close in the boys game with Spring Hill coming through 54 to 49. Clinton Kidd scored 25 and was one of the top rebounders. He had rebounding held from Trennon Bobo and Applegate, the latter scoring 11 points. Bud Daniels and Jack Butler with 19 and 12 respectively keep the contest close all the way.

Guest Plays Villian in Practice

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) - Quarterback Gordon Guey played the villain Wednesday, flinging Rice-style passes as the University of Arkansas Razorbacks prepared for their Saturday test with the Owls.

Coach Frank Broyles has concentrated on pass defense in work-outs in aiming the Porks for a homecoming victory over Rice. He cut short the peppy work-out because, "they worked real hard out there." Tuesday Broyles said the Porks went through the "worst practice of the year."

The Hogs were almost back to full strength Wednesday with fullbacks Charles Daniel and Bobby Burnett, tackle Gene Beutelschies and guard Jerry Jones dressed out. They were ill with flu Tuesday.

Tommy Brasher isn't expected to see action Saturday. He injured his foot during the game with Texas A&M last Saturday.

Riner Raises Pass Catch Bid

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bill Riner, wingback of Arkansas State Teachers College, grabbed five passes in the Bruins victory over Arkansas A&M last week to raise his total to 20 and close in on Ray Griffin of Harding College for honors in Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference statistics.

Riner has picked up 225 yards and four touchdowns with his receptions.

Griffin has caught 21 passes for 272 yards and two touchdowns.

Bill Curtis of Arkansas Tech leads the AIC in rushing and total offense with 730 yards. B. J. Moore of Tech leads in passing with 576 yards. Moore is second in total offense with 728 yards running and passing.

Robert McGlothlin has 42 points to lead in the scoring department while A&M's Jimmy Atkinson leads in punting with a 37.9 yard average.

Figures Hogs Will Win Over Rice Saturday

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Staff Writer

Being a nationally ranked team can bring problems, especially if you play a team like Rice University.

Twice this season already the Owls have embarrassed national powers, but they have yet to take a victory over a ranked team. They say the third time "is the charm."

The University of Arkansas Razorbacks can count on the Owls being up for the game, Louisiana State University and the Texas Longhorns fell into ties with aroused teams from Houston, Tex.

But Arkansas isn't expected to be as lax as Texas and LSU. The Tigers and the Longhorns should be proof enough that the Owls can play top-notch football.

We believe Arkansas will win, 21-7.

Rice has a capable passing attack, and it will be difficult to prevent a score. But the Owls are young, and Arkansas has its best leadership by its seniors this year than at any other time in the recent past.

Arkansas State tries to balance two records against Tennessee Tech at Cookeville, Tenn. The Indians hope to have a top-heavy record (top heavy with victories) when the season is over, and they'd like to win a game from Tech, which has dominated eight of the last 10.

Make it Arkansas State 20, Tech 10.

State Teachers 19, Graceland, Iowa, 12. The Bears are rolling now.

Arkansas Tech 14, Ouachita 6. B. J. Moore and Bill Curtis add up to two touchdowns, except against Teachers, maybe.

Harding 21, Henderson 1, it's getting to be a long season for the Reddies, and the Bisons are finding this trip around the schedule a frolic compared to old times.

Arkansas A&M 7, Ozarks 0. A battle at the bottom with Ozarks on more familiar ground.

Southern State 20, Austin College 12. Two other AIC teams have faded at Sherman, Tex., but those Mulderiders are steady.

Athletes From Russia Touring U.S.

NEW YORK (AP)—The Soviet men's and women's basketball teams open a night-game tour of the United States tonight with a doubleheader at Madison Square Garden.

The men's team will oppose a United States all-star outfit, representing the cream of the AAU players, in the second game after the Soviet women take on the Nashville Business College team, 1962 AAU women's champions.

Following tonight's games, the Soviets will head for Washington, D.C., where they are scheduled for a doubleheader Nov. 10. The rest of the schedule includes games at Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 12; Sioux Falls, S.D., Nov. 16; Mount Pleasant, Iowa, Nov. 19; Lubbock, Tex., Nov. 21, and Denver, Colo. on Nov. 23 and 26.

This is the fourth international series between U.S. and the Soviet Union in basketball. The Soviets were here in 1959 and the Americans went to Moscow in 1958 and 1961.

In the over-all competition, the U.S. men's representatives have captured 18 of 20 games. In the women's side, the Soviets hold a 12-8 margin.

Apparently Nixon Leaves Politics

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Richard M. Nixon, as angry and distraught as he has ever been in public, met reporters in what he called his final news conference, and accused segments of the press of utterly failing to give him a fair shake.

Newsman thought the Republican gubernatorial candidate had called the conference Wednesday to concede victory to Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown. Nixon did that, but he kept talking.

"As I leave you," Nixon told reporters coldly, "I want you to know just how much you're going to be missed."

"You won't have Nixon to kick around any more because, gentlemen, this is my last press conference."

Nixon was endorsed by some 75 per cent of the California daily newspapers that took sides in the turbulent gubernatorial campaign. But he said many of his statements had been ignored by the press.

"I have no complaints about the press coverage," Nixon said early in his statement. But it turned out he had plenty.

Samples:

"I am proud of the fact I defended my opponent's patriotism. You gentlemen didn't report it, but I am proud that I did that."

"As I leave the press, all I can say is this: For 16 years, ever since the (Alger) Hiss case, you've had a lot of fun, that you've had an opportunity to attack me and I think I have given as good as good as I can take."

"It was carried right up to the last day of the campaign. I made a talk on television, a talk in which I made a flub."

"I said I was running for governor of the United States. The Los Angeles Times dutifully reported that. Mr. Brown the last day made a flub. He said 'I hope everybody wins, that you vote the governor of Arkansas.'

Player Weds, Gets Expelled

GRAY, Ga. (AP) - The Jones County School Board has reaffirmed its stand expelling an 18-year-old high school football star because of his marriage.

The board met Wednesday night to take another look at the case of Johnny Arnold, the 6-foot, 170-pound halfback who was expelled with his 15-year-old bride under the board's nonmarriage rule.

Angry Arnold boosters have been urging that he be readmitted so that he can continue his education and perhaps win an athletic scholarship.

Thomas S. Drew, who became known for his honest dealings as a peddler, was elected the third governor of Arkansas.

Simpson-Pyka Wedding Vows Exchanged
The Willisville Methodist Church was the scene at 5 p. m. Saturday, Nov. 3, for the wedding of Miss Patsy Ruth Simpson of Dallas, Tex., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. and Kurt Pyka of Irving, Texas, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. D. Lynch of Dallas.

The Rev. Clyde Swift performed the double ring ceremony before an altar centered with a white satin prie d'oeu flanked by floor baskets of white chrysanthemums.

Wedding music was provided by Winston Waters, pianist, who accompanied Wylie Stagg, vocalist. Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a street length dress of white Alconon lace over taffeta. Her shoulder veil of silk illusion was attached to a band of pearlized orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white baby carnations and baby chrysanthemum.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Miss Sherry Simpson. Allen James Pyka of Amarillo, Tex., served his brother as best man. Ushers were Dean Simpson of Magnolia and Venoy Simpson, brothers of the bride.

After a short honeymoon, the couple will live in Irving, Tex., where Mr. Pyka is associated with the Irving State Bank. The bride is the granddaughter of W. T. Simpson of Willisville and the late Mrs. Simpson, and of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Hamilton of Hope.

TV Industry Develops Own Jargon

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Television, like any other industry, has developed its own jargon. To the uninitiated, some of its slang — while colorful — is largely incomprehensible.

You may not have known it, but you've seen many a teaser and hundreds of crawls, promos, billboards, spots, idents, segues, hitchhikes and piggybacks. And heard plenty of lip-syns.

A teaser is, logically, a stimulating bit from the story to follow and opens a show. It is designed to capture the attention of the audience.

A billboard is the portion of the show fore and aft, that proclaims its name and, usually its sponsors.

The crawl, related to the billboard, is a mechanical device that rolls the printed announcements up, down or across the television screen.

Promos—short for promotions—are announcements of forthcoming shows on the same network.

There are two kinds of idents (short, of course, for "identifications"). There is the network ident and the station ident—announcements made each half hour.

A segue (pronounced seg-way) means moving smoothly from one thing to another.

And a lip-syn (for synchronization, of course) means that the performer's mouth is matching the words of a number previously recorded.

Hitchhikes and piggybacks refer to commercials. The former refers to a brief commercial on behalf of the familiar "next week's sponsor" of a given show. And a piggyback is a single commercial in which two different products are subjects of sales pitches.

Recommended tonight: "The Masked Marine," ABC, 10-11 (Eastern Standard Time)—Harry Guardino stars in a wartime drama on "Premiere Theatre."

Head-on Crash Fatal to Child

MORRILTON, Ark. (IP) — Michael Dooley, 4, was killed and four persons injured in the head-on crash of a station wagon and car near Morrilton Wednesday.

Mrs. Michael Dooley, mother of the boy, and another child, Debbie, 7, were critically injured and taken to a Little Rock hospital. Less seriously injured were Beth Dooley, 9, and Teddy Dooley, 3, occupants of the station wagon driven by Mrs. Dooley.

State Trooper Jack Stone said Joseph S. Deamer, 71, of Pomona, Calif., driver of the other car involved, was not injured. He was being held in Conway County jail at Morrilton, Stone said.

54 Prisoners Are Paroled

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus approved parole of 54 prisoners Wednesday and recommended the commutation of sentences for 13 others.

Release date for most of the prisoners is Nov. 10.

McClellan Calls for End to Trend

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., called on attorneys today to help reverse what he called a trend toward turning criminal trials into a "quest for error."

McClellan, whose Senate Judiciary Committee conducted an extensive probe of crime, addressed about 700 persons at a Mid-South regional meeting of the American Bar Association, which opened today.

The senator said the nation's crime rate is increasing five times as fast as the population. "The evidence of moral sickness is all around us," he said, "in the pornography that defiles every newsstand, in the peep shows that pollute most motion pictures, and the violence that leaps from the TV screen into every living room."

McClellan criticized the United States system of "easy paroles," and said lawyers should "direct their particular scrutiny toward those judges who turn a criminal appeal into a quest for error with the result that persons of unchallenged guilt often are released to resume their lives of crime."

The senator is the author of a recently published book, "Crime Without Punishment," which deals with proceedings before his committee.

ABA President Sylvester C. Smith Jr., of Newark, N. J., also addressed today's opening session of the three-day meeting.

Smith said attorneys who donate their time and effort to defense of persons who could not otherwise afford counsel are supporting a basic principal of the American judicial system.

"I think strengthening of our system of defense of indigents also will help improve law enforcement as a whole," Smith said.

Smith said the ABA is taking the lead in organizing a World Conference of Lawyers next year to formulate an international effort to "explore avenues of world peace through law."

Delegates were to visit Winthrop Rockefeller's Winrock Farm on Peill Jean Mountain this afternoon.

Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, will address a closing session Saturday.

Little Rock Public Schools have an enrollment exceeding 21,000.

Husband "Adopts" Second Family

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: The triangle in our marriage is another family. My husband has a perfectly good one of his own; me and two fine boys, but by-passes us for a couple and their four kids he met through his work.

Those children take over when they come to our house. He gives them soda pop, brings them ice cream and lets them eat everything in sight, but if our youngsters so much as ask for a single bottle of pop or an ice cream cone, he raises Holy Ned.

The other kids do things he would never let ours do: jump on furniture, smear mirrors and windows, race through the house with muddy feet.

We don't believe in smoking, swearing or drinking, yet the parents of those brats do all three and he's there every evening.

He's finicky as an old maid at home, but never peeps about housekeeping where this family lives; dust an inch thick, blinds awry, furniture at sixes and sevens and dirty dishes in the sink. He stays till all hours but if we go to visit church friends, gets fidgety as a cat and wants to leave by 9:30.

Last week we were going to Bible School — I still had my hose and shoes to put on — when he bolted out the door, calling back that he must pick up the children of this other family. That had me. I yelled that they meant more to him than his own kids. He shouted, "You're just plain jealous!" then, instead of accompanying us to Bible School, undressed and went to bed.

Now he's not speaking to me. Should he treat me as he does now? If I'm wrong, tell me. — Wondering Wife

Dear Wondering: Your husband finds the other family more attractive because he can relax with them. The pins evidently all point the same direction in your life. "Judge not, that ye be not judged," said Jesus.

What do you offer in the way of romance and recreation? Pull a long face and inevitably your man will turn to others for friendship and affection. His preference for the other youngsters is incidental. Subconsciously, he's hitting at you when he neglects his own.

Basically, the trouble is still that old weakness of yours — jealousy. As a consequence of this sour note, you're out of harmony, physically and mentally. Let go cultivate a sense of humor and have fun — it's no sin.

Dear Helen: My mother never told me the facts of life. Her stock answer to my questions is: "I haven't time to explain." I've quit asking, feeling self-conscious. What I know I got out of a book from the library and friends. I feel I can never forgive her for forcing me to look to others for half-truths. Should I try again or let it ride until she decides to tell me on her own? — Puzzled

Dear Puzzled: There is a natural reluctance on the part of some parents to discuss sex with their children. This I deplore but nevertheless the problem does exist.

Don't force the issue with your mother. In the old days it wasn't so easy for girls to get the proper information. Now, thank heaven this prudery about the facts of life is so much nonsense. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, "Sex Education for Teen-agers."

Dear Helen: My husband and I love children but, according to the doctor, will never be able to have any of our own. Because of this, we've decided to adopt one or more. Would you give us some information about a children's agency or orphanage in Minnesota? Our denomination, the Christian Reformed Church, has a home but it's in Grand Rapids, Mich. — Mr. and Mrs. X., Raymond, Minn.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. X.: Check with agencies in your own state. The United States government has published seven factual reports on procedures for adopting a child which you may also find helpful. They are entitled "When You Adopt a Child," "The Physician's Part in Adoption," "The Social Worker's Part in Adoption," "Protecting Children in Adoption," "Social Workers Look at Adoption" and "Manual on Inter-country Adoption." The Superintendent of Documents, Washington 25, D.C., supplies information on how to buy these booklets.

Send your problems to Helen Worden Erskine care of this newspaper. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Red Cross Plans for Inspection

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Despite apparent hitches on some phases of the Cuban negotiations, United States and Soviet officials began talks with representatives of the International Red Cross today on plans for inspection of Cuba-bound Soviet ships.

The difficulties were understood to have developed as the United States increased its pressure to get Soviet offensive weapons out of Cuba and to have verified Soviet Premier Khrushchev's statement that 40 missiles probably are on their way home right now.

After a five-hour meeting Tuesday night with Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov, U.S. Ambassador Adlai P. Stevenson said glumly "This one was not fruitful."

Today's meetings with the Red Cross representatives were concerned with working out detailed arrangements for the ship inspection plan, already agreed upon by the United States and the Soviet Union.

In what was described as a "working session," U.S. Ambassador Charles W. Yost spent an hour with the Red Cross representatives, Paul Ruegger and Melchior Borsinger; and with two U.N. officials. The latter were Undersecretary Omar Loufi and Brig. I. J. Rikhye, military adviser of Acting Secretary-General U. Thant.

Afterward, Soviet Ambassador Platon D. Morozov met with the Red Cross and U.N. officials. A U.N. spokesman said Thant would make public the plan after all details are nailed down.

Stevenson, commenting on Tuesday night's meeting with Kuznetsov, said "the missiles are moving out and the talks are moving on." But he gave no indication that the missiles and jet bombers were leaving Cuban soil. The United States wants on-site inspection in Cuba.

Catholics Discuss New Approach

By BENNET M. BOLTON

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Roman Catholic Eumenical Council today discussed a new approach to extreme unction—a proposal that would make it the sacrament of the sick, instead of the sacrament of the dying.

The change was suggested by council speakers who said extreme unction, one of the Roman Catholic Church's seven sacraments, strikes fear in the ailing and their families because it is normally associated with impending death.

A council spokesman said several speakers at today's session in St. Peter's proposed changing the name of the sacrament to "the anointing of the sick."

The spokesman said the speakers suggested that the sacrament should be used even in illnesses not considered fatal so as to comfort the patient.

Under present rules, extreme unction can be administered only once during a single illness, and only when the patient is gravely ill.

A spokesman said the proposed changes—contained in a projected reform of liturgy, or public worship—would allow extreme unction "to be given in less serious cases than provided for today—for example, before a serious operation."

The proposals also would allow the repetition of the sacrament during the same illness if necessary.

President Is Happy for Brother

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy said today he was heartened by Tuesday's elections and predicted they would lead to a progressive performance in Congress next year.

Kennedy issued a brief statement expressing satisfaction with the elections for Congress and state offices.

A White House spokesman put out a separate summary pointing out that results in balloting for the House surpassed the record of previous Democratic administrations in midterm elections.

The summary said Kennedy's program will gain by the outcome of the House elections across the nation.

Kennedy had this to say in a statement distributed by the White House press office:

"I am heartened by the results of yesterday's election. This country and the Congress face major responsibilities in the coming two years and I am certain that the Congress will meet these responsibilities in a progressive and vigorous manner."

Easy, Exotic Sweet-Sour Vegetable

Serve exotic "Sweet-Sour Green Beans" with roast pork or pork chops—with or without chopsticks, of course. This flavorful vegetable dish with its tender blue lake green beans, water chestnuts and perky seasonings is simplicity itself to make in a single pot.

Stringless blue lakes, ready to use straight from the can, also speed the preparation and enhance the flavor of numerous salads, soups and casseroles. The superior quality of these pole beans is insured by the ideal climatic and soil conditions and abundant water resources of Oregon and Washington, where they are grown especially for canning.

Sweet-Sour Green Beans

1 can (1 lb.) whole blue lake green beans	1 can (5 oz.) water chestnuts, sliced thin (optional)
1 tablespoon sugar	½ teaspoon monosodium glutamate
1 tablespoon cornstarch	Salt
1 tablespoon soy sauce	Pepper
1 tablespoon instant minced onion
1½ tablespoons vinegar

Drain beans; reserve ¼ cup liquid. Blend sugar and cornstarch; add soy sauce, reserved bean liquid and onion. Cook and stir over medium-low heat until thickened and clear, about 2 minutes. Stir in vinegar; add beans and water chestnuts. Season with monosodium glutamate, salt and pepper; cover and heat through. Makes 3 or 4 servings.

Agreement in Strike of Newspapers

NEW YORK (AP)—Negotiators for the strikebound New York Daily News and the New York Newspaper Guild have reached tentative agreement on minor issues and made progress toward settling major issues, a federal official says.

Announcement of progress on major issues was made today by John W. Leslie, deputy assistant secretary of labor.

Leslie had announced Tuesday that tentative agreement had been reached on all but major issues.

Thomas J. Murphy, executive president of the New York Newspaper Guild and its chief negotiator, said "We made progress in some areas" that were discussed late Tuesday night.

Leslie and Murphy would not identify the major issues under discussion.

"There was no new statement by the Publishers Association of New York City, which represents the Daily News and the six other major newspapers in the city.

The guild—composed of news and commercial employees—struck against the Daily News' last Wednesday midnight when the contracts with the seven major newspapers expired. Four thousand members of mechanical and craft unions have refused to cross guild picket lines at the News.

The guild seeks a settlement that would set a pattern for contracts with the other newspapers. The other papers—all publishing normally—are the Times, Herald Tribune and Mirror, all morning papers like the News; and the Journal-American, the World Telegram & Sun, and Post, all afternoon newspapers.

The guild, in its negotiations with all seven newspapers, originally asked a 10 per cent general wage increase, a top minimum of $200 a week, higher minimums in lower brackets, shorter hours, greater job security and other benefits.

The last reported offer by the News was a weekly package increase of $7.25 in two installments over the term of a new two-year contract, plus other benefits.

The expired contracts provided for a top minimum ranging from $162 to $168 a week on the various papers.

Nixon Bitter About Some of the Press

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Richard M. Nixon, looking drawn and serious, conceded today that he has lost to Gov. Edmund G. Brown in his try for California's governorship.

Speaking out for the first time since the polls closed, Nixon told a news conference: "I congratulate Gov. Brown for his victory. He has the greatest honor and the greatest responsibility of any governor in the United States. I wish him well."

The Republican former vice president, who lost by an eyelash to President Kennedy in 1960, was trailing by nearly 250,000 votes as he made his statement at his headquarters hotel.

Brown claimed victory at 1 a.m. but Nixon—still hoping for a turn in the tide—went to bed without making a statement.

Then about 10:20 a.m., after his press secretary, Herbert G. Klein, made the initial announcement, Nixon strode to a battery of microphones and said:

"I believe Gov. Brown has a heart even though he believes I do not.

"I believe he's a good American even though he believes I'm not.

"I want it to be known that I never during the course of the campaign raised a personal consideration against my opponent—I never accused him of a lack of heart, a lack of patriotism.

"You gentlemen (meaning the press) didn't report that I defended his patriotism, that I said he was a man of good motives.

"For once, gentlemen, I would appreciate that you write it that way" that Nixon never attacked.

Nixon started out by saying: "Now that Mr. Klein has made his statement, and now that all the members of the press are so delighted that I have lost, I want to make one myself.

"I appreciated press coverage in this campaign. I think each of you wrote it the way you saw it. I think press men should write it that way.

"I don't think publishers should order reporters to write it one way or another."

Shepherd Named at Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—W.M. Shepherd, Little Rock utility executive, was elected president of the Arkansas State Chamber of Commerce today at the chamber's annual convention in Little Rock.

The Associated Industrial of Arkansas, affiliated with the state chamber, re-elected its president, Carl R. Stout of Bauxite.

Boards of directors of the two organizations elected officers at a joint breakfast today. The two-day joint meeting of the groups ends today.

Shepherd succeeds Kenneth Pat Wilson of Jacksonville. Wilson was elected chairman of the board.

W. A. Stone of Pine Bluff was elected first vice president of the chamber. H. J. Burford of Little Rock was elected vice president.

W. H. Kennedy Jr. of Pine Bluff was re-elected treasurer and Frank W. Cantrell of Little Rock was re-elected executive vice president.

Nuts About Brazil Nuts!

Most people are nuts about chocolate chiffon pie... and even more nuts about this pie when it has a delectable Brazil nut crust. Despite its elegant appearance, the pie is simple to make. The fluffy filling requires no baking and the crust calls only for ground Brazil nuts and sugar. The delicious snowy nuts, the seeds of the hard pod shown above, grow in the Amazon Basin and arrive on our shores in quantity around holiday time. The nuts are sensational for out-of-hand nibbling, either whole or sliced and toasted. In addition, they go into a variety of festive pastries, appetizers, salads, and main dishes.

CHOCOLATE CHIFFON PIE
Brazil Nut Crust

1 cup ground Brazil nuts	2 tablespoons sugar
--------------------------	---------------------

Mix Brazil nuts with sugar in a 9-inch pie plate. Press mixture with the back of a tablespoon against the bottom and sides, up to the rim of the pie plate. If a toasted flavor is desired, bake in a moderately hot oven (400°F.) 8 minutes, or until lightly browned. Cool. Fill with Chiffon Filling.

Chiffon Filling

1 envelope unflavored gelatine	2 eggs, separated
¼ cup sugar, divided	1 6-ounce package (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate morsels
¼ teaspoon salt	1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup milk	½ cup heavy cream, whipped

Mix together gelatine, ¼ cup sugar and salt in top of double boiler. Stir in milk, egg yolks and semi-sweet chocolate morsels. Place over boiling water and cook, stirring constantly, until gelatine dissolves and chocolate is melted (about 6 minutes). Remove from heat; beat with rotary beater until chocolate is blended. Stir in vanilla. Chill until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from a spoon. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry. Gradually add remaining ¼ cup sugar and beat until stiff. Fold into gelatine mixture; fold in whipped cream. Turn into Brazil nut crust; chill until firm. Garnish with additional whipped cream and finely chopped or sliced Brazil nuts.

Governor's Race Went to the Wire

BOSTON (AP)—Edward M. Kennedy, youngest brother of the President, swept to a smashing Senate victory in the off-year election, but the Massachusetts governor's race developed into a last vote battle today.

With 2,010 of the state's 2,011 precincts counted, young Kennedy showed 1,143,021 votes while Republican George Cabot Lodge had 863,460 votes. Independent Stuart Hughes was never in the race and finished with 49,102.

Democrat Endicott Peabody's apparent winning fight against Republican Gov. John Volpe resolved itself into a cliffhanger as the last precincts reported.

With only one precinct missing, and that containing 2,000 votes, the results showed Peabody with 1,048,216 votes and Volpe with 1,047,102—difference of 1,114.

Peabody had nearly a 100,000-vote advantage as the day dawned. Then the reverse trend started.

Officials of two towns corrected their figures.

There are approximately 6,000 absentee ballots yet to be tallied. Before the afternoon started, it looked as though Edward W. Brooke would be the only Republican to finish on the positive side, Brooke, as attorney general-elect, will be the first Negro to hold a major office in Massachusetts.

Charges Filed on Two for Abortion

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—A doctor and a nurse were charged in Garland Circuit Court with abortion Monday after a police raid on an apartment house in which operating room equipment was seized.

Dr. Richard M. Rutledge, 64, was released on $15,000 bond Monday night and the nurse, Mrs. Helen Kelso, about 45, was released under $5,000 bond.

Prosecutor David Whittington said three young women said Monday that the doctor had performed abortions on them. All three were examined by another doctor and two were hospitalized.

Whittington said Rutledge and Mrs. Kelso came to Hot Springs from Peoria, Ill., about a year ago. He said Rutledge had been indicted on abortion conspiracy there but his trial ended in a hung jury.

An Illinois malpractice hearing for Rutledge is scheduled to resume in Illinois Nov. 15. It was recessed in October.

Whittington said Rutledge and Mrs. Kelso had set up a hospital in two suites on an upper floor of the apartment house. Mrs. Kelso lived in one of the suites, he said, and it also contained the operating room. The other suite was used as a recovery room, Whittington said.

The prosecutor said a quantity of a drug which he said is used in producing abortions, was seized from one of the suites.

Whittington said officers had been watching the apartment house for some time and saw a woman and a teen-aged girl go in Monday. Later, he said, two other women entered the house.

Police picked up the woman and the teen-aged girl when they emerged from the apartment house and questioned them, and they said an abortion had been performed on the girl. The girl, from Indiana, consented to a physical examination.

Then the raid was started. The nurse was arrested and the other two women, both from Illinois, were taken to another doctor and later hospitalized. Whittington said the doctor said abortions had been performed on all three women.

Rutledge was arrested at his suburban Hot Springs home Monday night.

A truckload of equipment was taken from the apartment house by the police.

Two of the girls said they paid $400 each for their abortions. The younger girl said she paid $300, Whittington said.

Just How Do You Rank in the Office

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—How high is your place on the office totem pole?

Are you still climbing up, or slowly sliding down?

Sometimes it is hard for a fellow himself to be sure. The measurements between success and failure are often subtle in the modern business world.

But here is a handy guide of hints that point the way. You are probably getting to be a poobah in your firm if—

You get your haircuts on company time without a feeling of guilt—or that you are putting something over on someone.

You spend an hour to two hours at lunch, and no longer bring it to work in a paper bag.

If your swivel chair develops a squeak, somebody promptly oils it for you without being asked.

They take you off the once-a-week payroll and put you on the once-a-month payroll.

The guy who used to be on the rung above you no longer steals your ideas and palms them off as his own. You steal his.

If the company has a parking lot, there is a space reserved for your car.

You get more and more sealed interviewing memos marked "important," "private" and "strictly confidential." In the old days you only got missives like that from your friendly neighborhood loan shark.

The elevator operator asks your opinion on business conditions and what baseball team in the National League looks good for 1963.

You give up bowling and take up golf.

There is only one buzzer on your desk that you have to respond to, but there are three buzzers you can push and make others jump.

When you want to see the boss, his secretary no longer keeps you cooling your heels while she tells him who you are. She smiles and says, "Go right in—he's waiting."

You spend more time reading the stock market reports than you do the sports pages.

No-Watch Oven Meal

Had a busy day? If so, you will like this extra good meal that can be popped in the oven in minutes and left to bake while you do other things, or relax for a few minutes.

Convenient, canned foods shorten preparation time. First prepare the Tomato Corn Scallop. Next combine sliced canned white potatoes, cream of celery condensed soup, dried pimiento and shredded cheddar cheese for Baked Air Grain Potatoes. Slice canned ham, arrange in a shallow baking pan and lightly brush with a mixture of brown sugar and prepared mustard. All bake for about an hour in a moderate oven.

Serve crisp relishes, cole slaw or a green salad with the meal. For dessert canned peaches are a good choice.

Tomato Corn Scallop
1 medium size onion
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 eggs
1 can (1 lb.) cream style corn
1 can (1 lb.) tomatoes
1/4 cup coarse cracker crumbs
3/4 cup chopped parsley
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper

Cook chopped onion in butter until tender but not brown. Mix beaten eggs with rest of ingredients. Pour into a baking dish. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees) about one hour, until firm. Six to eight servings.

Purple Plum Plumage for Sundaes

Easy to fix and so elegant for entertaining, "Plum Peppermint Sundaes" will top off dinner with a flavorful flourish. Juicy canned purple plums provide tanginess in the sauce, which uses some of the extra heavy syrup from the can. Plum halves bedeck each serving of the handsome dessert.

The 1962 pack of purple plums in the Pacific Northwest set a new tonnage record. Cans of the tree-ripened fruit are now abundant in grocery stores to help you dress up fruit salads, meat sauces and countless desserts.

Plum Peppermint Sundaes
1 can (1 lb. 15-oz.) purple plums in extra heavy syrup
2 tablespoons Sherry wine (optional)
1/4 cup chopped walnuts
2 tablespoons crushed peppermint candy
1 quart vanilla ice cream
6 individual sponge cakes

Drain plums, reserving 1/4 cup syrup. Pit and halve fruit. Save 6 halves for garnish and chop remainder coarsely. Combine chopped plums, syrup, Sherry, walnuts and candy. Place half of ice cream on each sponge cake and top with plum sauce. Garnish each serving with a plum half. Makes 6 servings.

Reds Parade Rockets Like Ones in Cuba

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union paraded some of what were believed to be its Cuban rockets through Red Square today to mark the 45th anniversary of the 1917 Bolshevik Revolution.

The annual march of men and arms past the Soviet leaders atop Lenin's tomb included a large variety of rockets, including some which observers felt certain were types spotted by American reconnaissance planes in Cuba.

Also on display are aerial rockets which a Soviet television commentator said had been tested "through no fault of the Soviet Union." He apparently referred to the shot that brought down American pilot Francis Gary Powers and his U2.

The rocket, which has two levels of guiding fins, also may have been the one that brought down another American U2 over Cuba.

Among the rockets shown was what appeared to be a new multi-stage missile, described by the television commentator as a "strategic rocket" and the "junior sister" of the rockets which have launched Soviet space ships. No space ship rockets were shown, however.

The marching soldiers began their parade to the Cuban revolutionary tune "26th of July."

The address of the day was given as usual by the Soviet defense minister, Marshal Rodion Malinovsky. In both his speech and his order of the day to the armed forces he repeated an explanation of the Cuban crisis.

Reminds God Will Have Last Word

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The international crisis may prove to be the church's greatest hour, the Arkansas Baptist state convention was told at its opening session today.

Dr. C. Z. Holland, president of the convention, described the crisis as "an hour of confusion and disillusionment."

"God has not spoken His last word yet," Dr. Holland said. He added that "when the world has been at its worst, the church has been at its best."

"It was in an hour like this that the church took its first root and bore its best fruit," he said. "The church is not afraid of blood, because it is blood-purchased. The church is not afraid of suffering because it is the prayers of martyrs that cry How long, O Lord, holy and true, dost thou not judge and avenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth?"

Dr. Holland was the first speaker at the convention, representing the state's largest religious group, began its meeting. Reports from various boards and commissions were to be heard later in the day and at a business session a $2,106,600 budget was to be presented.

Dr. Holland, pastor of Jones in the western end of the front, and at Towang, in India's north-east frontier region 850 miles to the east.

Fall Vegetables And Spaghetti—Cool Weather Mates

Fall means more than brilliant foliage, cool winds and golden sunshine. It means a harvest of wonderful vegetables—squash, green peppers, cauliflower, turnips, etc.

Squash and green peppers add zest and appeal to fall meals stuffed with canned spaghetti. Canned spaghetti products are delicious time-savers. All 4 kinds—Italian style spaghetti, spaghetti with ground beef, spaghetti in tomato sauce with cheese, and spaghetti with meatballs in tomato sauce—are easily stored on the pantry shelf.

Try one or both of these recipes. Both are perfect on days with that bite in the air.

STUFFED GREEN PEPPERS
2 to 3 medium green peppers
1 can (15 ounces) spaghetti with ground beef
1/2 cup tomato sauce
Grated Parmesan cheese
Cut tops off green peppers; remove seeds and fibrous portion. Cook in lightly salted boiling water about 20 minutes; drain. Fill each pepper with spaghetti; sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Place in a 1 1/2 quart casserole. Bake at 350°F. for 20 minutes. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

STUFFED ZUCCHINI
3 medium zucchini (6 inches long)
1 can (15 1/2 ounces) Italian style spaghetti
Butter or margarine, melted
Corn flake crumbs
Cook washed zucchini in lightly salted boiling water about 10 minutes; drain. Cut in half lengthwise and scoop out seed portions. Brush the inside of each half with melted butter. Fill cavities with spaghetti; sprinkle with corn flake crumbs. Arrange in a shallow baking dish. Bake at 350°F. for 20 minutes. Makes 3 servings.

Pork Widely Featured at the Markets

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The calendar is the housewife's friend right now, with seasonally low prices posted on many major menu items at the nation's supermarkets.

Pork loins, ribs, chops, steaks and bacon and sausage are widely featured over the country. These lower pork prices may not last too long, since government estimates put hog slaughter at lower than year-ago levels in coming months.

Beef prices have also felt the seasonal influence, with rib roasts and several steak cuts offered at attractive prices. The flow of fed cattle to market has been stepping up, which could lead to lower prices.

Turkey volume keeps that bird's price attractive. Production will run within 10 per cent of last year's record, industry experts estimate.

Other foods enjoying a bountiful harvest are potatoes, with production running 22 per cent above average, and cranberries, up 13 per cent from average. Anise, artichokes, squash, sweet potatoes, broccoli, pole beans, turnip greens, rutabagas, spinach, carrots and cabbage are among other vegetable attractions.

Fruit attractions, beside autumnal cranberries, include apples, avocados, red grapes and limes, with pears, persimmons and pomegranates regionally attractive.

Pressure to Drop Menon Is Mounting

By HENRY S. BRADSHAW

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Pressure mounted on Prime Minister Nehru today to drop his controversial close associate, V. K. Krishna Menon, from any role in India's defense against the Chinese Communist invaders.

Non-Communist parties plan a mass demonstration against Menon when Parliament meets in emergency session Thursday to consider the military situation. They also will urge that the Communist party be outlawed.

Nehru demoted Menon from defense minister to minister of defense production on Oct. 31 in the political uproar that followed India's reverses in the Himalayan border war. Critics said Menon had failed to prepare adequately to meet the Chinese offensive.

Although Nehru himself took over the defense ministry, the onslaught against Menon continued. Signs increased that the border conflict may explode soon into savage new fighting after a virtual lull for two weeks.

The Chinese appeared ready to resume their offensive in at least two areas.

According to reports here, main Chinese drives are being prepared at Chushul, in the Ladakh area

California Walnut Peach Bread

Serve California Walnut Peach Bread at your fall teas or coffee clatches. A versatile recipe, this bread is delicious "as is," or spread with butter, honey or cream cheese. Tuck slices into school lunches or serve with fresh fruits, cheese and walnuts to crack or in sandwich form to accompany salads. Crunchy, fresh California walnuts give the bread a wonderful flavor and you'll find them widely available in-the-shell in cellophane bags or shelled in convenient vacuum cans or clear bags.

California Walnut Peach Bread
1 cup dried peaches
1/4 cup chopped California walnuts
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup granulated sugar
2 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup half and half cream

Cut peaches into small pieces with kitchen scissors. It is not necessary to soak them first. Chop walnuts. Cream butter or margarine, sugar and egg together. Beat flour, baking powder and salt together; add to creamed mixture alternately with cream. Stir in walnuts and peaches. Turn into greased 9 1/2 x 5 1/2 x 3-inch loaf pan. Bake at 375 degrees, 50 to 55 minutes. Turn out on rack to cool. Makes one loaf. (Whole milk may be substituted; increase butter or margarine by 2 tablespoons.)

No Sign of National Mood Change

By JAMES MANKOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—This was a catch-as-catch-can election, showed no sign of any real change in the national mood. But it did reveal a lot of discontent among voters toward their state or individuals.
The national mood was expressed in 1960 when the Democrats were given control of the federal government. Voters could be swept then out Tuesday, if they were dissatisfied, and given Republicans control of Congress.
The Democrats went into this election with huge majorities in the House and Senate. And, just as predicted, when the election was over they still retained them.
The reason was pretty clear. In the campaign there was no real change in the country or convincing the voters to seek a new national direction. This much was probably good news for Kennedy, but it won't make his task of trying to get Congress to accept his domestic programs any easier. It remains so because the changes there were so few. It was in the states that the discontent and upsets showed. They were most startling in those rock-ribbed Republican states of Vermont and New Hampshire where Democrats, for the first time in generations, were elected governors.

In Vermont it was Phillip H. Hoff, the first Democrat sent to the state house in 108 years. In New Hampshire it was John W. King, the first Democrat chosen in 40 years.
But in Michigan and Oklahoma the upsets went the other way. In Michigan George Romney was the first Republican elected governor in 14 years. In Oklahoma the first Republican ever was made governor. This was Henry Bellmon.
Eisenhower had campaigned in New Hampshire, Kennedy in Michigan. But Kennedy also went to Connecticut where his friend and fellow-Democrat, Abraham Ribicoff, was elected to the Senate. And Eisenhower talked in Pennsylvania where a Republican, William M. Scranton, was elected governor.
A prime example of voters switching around showed up in Ohio where a Democrat, Sen. Frank J. Lausche, was re-elected, but Republican James A. Rhodes defeated Gov. Michael V. DiSalle

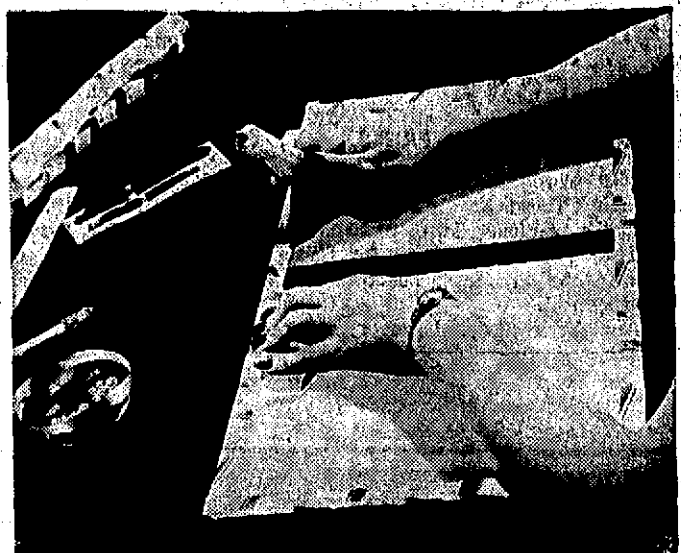

Moore Is 7th in Scoring

FAVETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Quarterback Billy Moore, the University of Arkansas' All-America nominee, is tied for seventh in the nation in scoring with 60 points.
Moore has scored 10 touchdowns, including two against Texas A&M in the Razorbacks' 17-7 victory last weekend.
The Razorbacks are fourth in the nation in scoring with an average of 30.7 points a game. They rank 10th in defense with an 89.0 yard average, and seventh in offense with an average of 361.6 yards gained per game.
The best all around news for the Republicans was the fact they had governors elected in New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Michigan, all big states which should give the party needed strength in the 1964 presidential race.
Early today the biggest casualty of the election appeared to be former Vice President Richard M. Nixon who sought the governorship of California held by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.
It was taken as granted, before Nixon ever made his bid there, that if he lost he was through as a national political figure.
Nelson A. Rockefeller, by his re-election as governor of New York, seemed as of now to have the inside track for the Republican presidential nomination two years from now.

Political Folks Are in the News

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Politics is THE big news at election time, so political people become the people in the news, to wit:
Former President Herbert Hoover was applauded warmly by both Republican and Democratic poll workers as he voted in New York City.
The former Republican president was spry and jocular despite his 8 years and a recent operation. When photographers approached, he quipped "Let me take the decoration out first" as he removed a hearing aid.
Thomas E. Dewey, former New York governor who ran twice for the presidency, went to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's campaign headquarters in New York City to congratulate the man who may try to make the White House run in 1964.
Dewey, who now practices law in New York, said he went to salute Rockefeller and congratulate him on a great victory in winning a second term in Dewey's old post.
Sen. Carl Hayden, 85, D-Ariz., chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, is leaving Bethesda Naval Hospital today. Hayden could have been re-

Gift Wrapping's Easy With Paste From Metal Tubes

The approaching gift wrapping season will be pleasanter if you rely on paste or household cement available in a self-applicating fold-up metal tube. The adhesive goes on quickly and easily in the quantity and spots you want it, and the presents will look clean, neat and attractive.
Once the colorful wrapping paper is on securely, you can proceed with small additional decorations that will give your presents a distinctive, personal touch. The decorations will, of course, depend on the occasion—Thanksgiving and Christmas are not far off.
If it's a child's Christmas present cut-outs of Santa Claus, snowmen and candles are appropriate and can be glued right onto the wrapping. Bows of ribbon can also be easily attached with glue from the collapsible metal tube.
With the same technique, you can even create your own gifts. A writing portfolio, for example, is easy to construct with heavy cardboard, colorful paper, scissors, ribbons and a tube of glue or paste. In covering the cardboard, make up pockets for a pen and pencil set and for personalized stationery. The writing kit can then be topped off with an attractive ribbon.

Film Trend Now Is Do It Yourself

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Product-starved theater exhibitors can look with some hope on the new do-it-yourself trend of film production in New York.
With Hollywood production on a constant decline for a decade, theater owners have had to scramble for new sources of movies. It's too early to detect a new wave of Eastern filming, but there was evidence of such a possibility at the sixth annual San Francisco Film Festival.
The sole American feature entry was a modest film called "David and Lisa." It is modest only in its scope—a case history of two emotionally upset young people—and in its cost—$200,000.
The film's artistic merits were rated high by the festival audience. It has been shown only once before—at the Venice Film Festival, where it was named best film by a new director.
Producer Paul Heller explained how the film came to be.
Frank Perry, a stage director, and his wife Elenore, a script writer, had come across a fictionalized case history by Theodore Rubin, M.D. They bought the rights, and Mrs. Perry fashioned a screen play. They showed it to Teller, a longtime friend who had been a television and film art director.
"Frank said he'd like to direct it as a movie, because he had never directed a film before," said Heller. "I decided I would produce it, because I had never produce a film before."
"The next thing we needed was money. We decided to go after it just as you would finance a Broadway play. Instead of having script readings as they do in searching for play angels, we sent out scripts. We had 450 of them copied."
"Strangely, those who might back Broadway shows had no interest in financing a movie. So we had to come up with an entirely new list."
These included doctors, dentists and anyone else Heller and the Perrys could think of. Contributions ranged from $300 to $15,000.
They found a large mansion near Philadelphia that had once been used for a school. The film was shot there in five weeks.
leased from the hospital late Tuesday, an aide said in Washington, but it would have been too late for him to fly to Arizona to vote, so he decided to remain in the hospital overnight.
Hayden, who was re-elected Tuesday to a seventh term, entered the hospital Oct. 25 suffering from what doctors described as a low-grade infection.
Poinsett county was named for Joel Roberts Poinsett, of South Carolina, then Secretary of War, who is said to have given his name to the poinsettia flower and introduced its cultivation into the United States.

Chili Beans, Sun Valley Style

Chili Beans, Sun Valley Style, is a sturdy dish to be enjoyed at winter's ski parties and summer-time cook-outs, an. may be served in a variety of ways. Made of plump perfect Idaho-grown dappled Pinto or colorful Red beans and tender juicy lean beef—lazy-simmered, tantalizingly seasoned with choice chili spices, a hint of ground cumin, bayleaf, garlic, onion, plus the flavor of Home—here is a famous recipe for year-round eating pleasure, family and guests alike.

Chili Beans, Sun Valley Style
(about 10 servings, 1 1/2 cups each)

Part 1
4 cups Idaho Pinto Beans
12 cups (3 quarts) water
4 teaspoons salt
1 large peeled onion, whole
1 large bayleaf
1 fat clove garlic, thin-sliced
2 tablespoons salad oil

To prepare Pinto or Red beans, combine in large heavy sauce pot or Dutch oven the washed beans and the measured amount of water, cold or hot. Bring water to boiling point and boil rapidly for 2 minutes. Remove from heat. Cover tightly. Let stand for one hour. Beans are now ready to cook. Note: beans may be soaked overnight, if desired. Add ingredients to beans and soaking water. Bring to boiling point rapidly, reduce heat to simmer. Cover pot tightly. Simmer about 2 hours or until not quite tender. Lift out and discard onion and bayleaf.

Part 2
1 1/2 to 2 pounds lean ground beef
2 tablespoons fat or finely-chopped suet
1 cup water, beef stock, or tomato juice
3 to 4 tablespoons good chili powder seasoning
1 1/2 teaspoons ground cumin salt as needed

Brown meat quickly in the fat, breaking into small pieces. Add to beans. Add liquid to frying pan and heat to boiling point to bring up the browning bits and drippings. Add to beans. Measure into small dish 3 tablespoons of chili powder and the cumin. Mix to smooth paste using some of liquid from the bean pot. Add to bean mixture. Bring to boiling point, reduce heat to simmer. Cover tightly. Slow-cook for 1 to 1 1/2 hours, tasting in the meantime to find if more salt or chili powder is needed. Tastes and chili powder blends vary so much.

This makes 3 1/2 generous quarts which means 10 servings allowing about 1 1/2 cups per serving. Any leftover may be packaged and frozen. In fact, why not do another batch of the beans and plan to freeze one. They are so good for many occasions, help to pad the meat course, and all ages enjoy them.

The ensuing days were arduous for Columbine Pepper Druggel. Sam Jones had made his appeal to the Department of Health from the report of the inspectors who had taken away the A rating of The Grove of Daphne.

Barbara Green drove her down to Sam Jones' office, and there she laid before him her plan to turn what she regarded as waste space in the hotel into half-a-dozen shops. He agreed that the idea was not without merit, but clucked his tongue at Columbine.

"Have you an idea how much this alteration will cost?"

"None whatever. But I am convinced it will be an excellent investment."

"I don't dispute the excellence of the investment, if you can rent the shops and if you can get the money. If you're serious, we'll better get an estimate on what it will cost."

He telephoned a firm of contractors and the outcome of the conversation was that a man would come out that afternoon to The Grove of Daphne to look over the situation and make a rough estimate.

"The girls drove back to the hotel, Barbara to take up her duties as hostess, and Columbine to sit at her desk and cope with routine problems. Presently there came a knock on her door, and when she called to come in, the bus boy, Curt, sidled through the door and stood in a torment of embarrassment.

"Ma'am — Miss Druggel," he stammered. "I got ears. I got first-class lungs. So all time afternoons and like that I make out to be asleep. I just doze off 'n' snore." He came to a full stop. "But you're not really asleep," Columbine said encouragingly.

"Like a possum," he answered. "So nobody pays no attention to me. And they gab to one another. That blasted chef and the pastry cook and all them. And they're sore about that 10 per cent, and they thought they was party smart getting your A cook away from you."

"Why did they do that, Curt?" she asked.

"They got sugared up," Curt said. "But now they're doin' another caper. Yas'm. Tomorrow, right after breakfast, this here chef is comin' down with suthin' and takin' to his bed, and the rest of the crew is walkin' out. 'Thout sayin' a word. So's to leave you flat."

"Are you sure?"

"Yes'm, ma'am. They all got jobs to go to. One of the dishwashers, he told me I got to quit and I could come with him."

"Where are these jobs?"

"I dunno all of 'em," he answered, "but mine's at the Desert Dunes."

"Oh, yes," Columbine said. "Lucius Quentin's hotel."

"They just take a powder and you won't have no kitchen crew to get lunch or dinner tomorrow."

"Thank you, Curt," Columbine said, and gave him her warmest smile. "It is wonderful to have a friend like you."

He gawped, reddened until his ears flamed and, making incoherent noises, he turned and galloped out of the office.

She went to the door and called to Barbara Green. "The fat," she said didactically, "is once more in the fire." She explained the situation.

Columbine reached for the telephone. She was connected with the secretary of the hotel association. He tried to be helpful. But there was not available in Phoenix a competent chef or pastry cook. The various employment agencies could supply everything but what was necessary. Los Angeles could put no one on an airplane at once, but hoped to be able to send competent people in 48 hours, with good luck.

"Can you cook?" Barbara asked.

"Scrambled eggs and Welsh rarebit," Columbine answered.

"It's about time for the real tourist season to open."

"And here we are without a can opener," Barbara said.

"Maybe not. We could celebrate it. Announce a formal opening of the season. We're a Western resort. Cowboys and remudas and all like that. Would it be possible to go utterly Western for a couple of days?"

"Such as how?"

"I read an advertisement," Columbine went on. "It told about a thing called a chuck wagon. The man who owns it guarantees to feed any number from half a dozen to 500. Like on an old-fashioned cattle drive."

Columbine was flipping through the telephone book. She found what she wanted and gave the number to the operator.

"Chuck Wagon?" she asked.

"Yes, ma'am."

"This is The Grove of Daphne. Are you available for tomorrow and tomorrow night?"

"We got an open date."

Negroes Score Some Gains Politically

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Negroes scored major political gains in Tuesday's elections across the nation. Two were elected to statewide offices for the first time in Massachusetts and Connecticut.

In New York State, however, where a Negro was nominated by a major party for a statewide office for the first time, he went down to defeat along with most of his running mates.

Elsewhere, Georgia elected its first Negro state senator in 92 years.

In Pennsylvania, 10 Negroes—nine from Philadelphia and one from Pittsburgh, and all Democrats—were re-elected to the state House of Representatives. One Philadelphia Negro, Democrat Robert N. C. Nix, was re-elected congressman.

Negroes didn't fare well in Ohio, Colorado and Oklahoma. A Negro ran for a state office in each of those states and each lost.

Edward W. Brooke, who says, "Hardly anyone even mentions I'm a Negro anymore; I think it's progress," was elected attorney general of Massachusetts. His opponent, white, was Democrat Frances E. Kelly, former lieutenant governor and onetime attorney general. He was the only Republican elected this time in an otherwise Democratic sweep of statewide offices.

Both major parties in Connecticut nominated Negroes for state treasurer, and so one was sure to win. He was Democrat Gerald A. Lamb, 37, a dental technician and a three-term Waterbury city alderman, who beat Republican William D. Graham, a successful Hartford lawyer.

Edward R. Dudley, a Negro, running for attorney general on the Democratic ticket in New York State, lost to incumbent Republican Louis J. Lefkowitz.

Dudley is borough president of Manhattan, one of five boroughs of New York City. Within Manhattan, Negro Congressman Adam Clayton Powell Jr., a Democrat, won re-election in his Harlem district.

In Fulton County, Ga., Leroy R. Johnston, Negro Democrat, defeated T. M. Alexander, Negro Republican, to become the first Negro state senator in Georgia since the days of Reconstruction.

Another Negro candidate for state senator from Fulton County, Atlanta, Republican Rod Harris, lost to Democrat Oby T. Brewer Sr., white.

Negro Republican Leodis Harris was beaten in his try to oust four-term Democratic U.S. Rep. Charles A. Vanik in Ohio's 21st District, the Cleveland area.

Also beaten was Negro Robert Rhone, who ran 19th in a race for state representatives in Denver, Colo. The top 17 were elected.

In a state legislature battle in Oklahoma, Negro Edward M. Porter, a Republican, was defeated by Democratic incumbent Bryce Baggett.
